Memo to Requestors of Handwriting Analysis (Graphoanalysis)
From Tom Kimball, Ph.D.
Date [present]
Subject Graphoanalysis Services

Thanks Thank you for your inquiry about handwriting analysis services.

My proposal I propose to offer you a personal analysis of your handwriting sample. I have been a handwriting analyst since 1964. I did my doctoral dissertation on the validity and reliability of handwriting as a projection of personality traits.

Services Initial and ongoing services include

- compatibility comparison for two or more persons,
- career opportunities,
- interpersonal relationship analysis,
- screening applicants for various contracts or relationships.

Handwriting requirements Your Graphoanalysis report will be more accurate and revealing if you:

- write spontaneously on any subject with your favorite pen or pencil.
- sit in a comfortable position, not in a bumpy vehicle!
- write more text, rather than less. Write at different times and moods.
- collect three pages of writing on unlined paper.

Constraints Four facts that a Graphoanalyst cannot tell from your handwriting samples:

- handedness (left or right) of the writer,
- physical age (but emotional, yes) of the writer,
- gender of the writer, or
- the future (but yes, trends of behavior, based on trait percentages.)

All other traits of personality and character are accessible in your sample.
